Summary

At Akademie VŠEM, I'm a student majoring in economics.

My interest is programming, thus I'm open to any job or internship opportunities.

I am now studying Java, and I have minor knowledge of JavaScript and C#.

Since December 2021, I've been actively learning programming.

Since then, I have created Android applications and websites.

I don't currently have any professional expertise in software development, but I'd really like to.
